SCHOOL TEACHER COMMITTS SUICIDE

Body of Mrs. Anna Merrill Found
Hanging From Rope at Home in Andersonville Today

DISCOVERED BY CHILDREN

They Go in Search at Recess Hour
When She Fails to Appear—
Teacher For 35 Years

Mrs. Anna Merrill, a teacher in the Andersonville schools, committed suicide some time last night or early this morning and her body was found hanging from a rope thrown through the transom of the front door, by school children, this morning who went in search of their teacher after she had failed to appear at the opening of the school. Mrs. Merrill lived in the last house at the west end of Andersonville and a motive could be learned for her action. She was apparently in good health yesterday and was in the house all day.

Mrs. Merrill was the wife of S. J. Merrill, who was also a school teacher in that vicinity for a number of years. The deceased had been teaching school for almost 35 years, most of that time in the Andersonville schools, and the remainder in Jeffs Corner and other Rush county schools. She was about 55 years old.

Mrs. Merrill was a teacher in the primary department of the school, and had all of the small children in her room. The children gathered in their room at the regular hour, and when the recess period came, they went out on the playgrounds and informed the school children that they didn't have a teacher.

Several of the small children went to the home of Mrs. Merrill and knocked on the door and when no reply was given they peeped underneath of the door shade, and saw her body suspended from a transom of the door.

The children notified the townspeople and it was found that the back door was open. Indications also pointed to the fact that Mrs. Merrill did not commit suicide until this morning as the bed in which she slept was used, and the kitchen fire had been kindled and the baseburner was almost out.

Mrs. Glen Kaler, a sister of the deceased, made her home with Mrs. Merrill, but was visiting in Carthage last week and was not expected home until the latter part of this week. A rumor was current this morning that Mrs. Merrill had mailed a letter to her sister, but this was unfounded.

The Franklin county coroner was summoned before the body was removed and he and an undertaker arrived about noon. It was thought

5 ADDITIONAL CASES ARE REPORTED TODAY

Influenza Cases Not Increasing Rapidly
But Many Measle Cases
Reported Daily

NEW CASE OF SMALLPOX

Only five new cases of influenza were reported to Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, since the report published yesterday. Several new cases of measles, as well as one of scarlet fever and one for smallpox was reported in the list this morning.

The smallpox case is India Black, 14 year old daughter of Elias Black, 1023 N. Arthur street, and is in the same family in which an older brother is also suffering with the disease. There are five members of the family and this is the second one to contract the disease.

The five new cases of influenza reported in the city are as follows: Lola Barlow 221 East 11; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Matlock of Circleville; Misses Theresa and Jennie Madden 233 North Main street.

The amount of contagious diseases is unusually large for February, according to the records on file with the city health physician.

Rush County Pioneer Expires at Age of 89 Years

Calvin Gwynnup, pioneer resident of Rush county expired late yesterday afternoon of senility at the county infirmary. The deceased would have been 89 years old in April and was born and reared in this county. He was born in southeastern Rush county near Andersonville and had always resided in this county during his life. He is survived by four sons and one daughter who are: John of Beitonville, Granville of near New Salem, Charley of Anderson, Edward of Connersville and Mrs. Ella Smith of Anderson.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon and burial will be made in the Salt Creek cemetery near Andersonville.

CARL KENNER DIES AT PITTSBURG, PA.

Former Rushville Boy Expires Monday Night Following an Attack of Pneumonia

FUNERAL HERE THURSDAY

Carl Kenner, about 34 years old, former Rushville boy, died at his home in Pittsburgh, Pa., last night at eleven o'clock of pneumonia, according to word received here by relatives today. Mr. Kenner was manager of the Hanover shoe store in Pittsburgh, having previously been in a store for the same firm at Cleveland.

He was discharged from the navy about six years ago, suffering with a tubercular point, having been injured while at sea by being thrown out of a bunk. When he became afflicted with pneumonia, it was feared that he would never recover.

Besides the widow and one son, Carl Francis, age five years, the deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kenner of Indianapolis, formerly of this city, and two married sisters, Mrs. Carl Schaeffer and Mrs. Mason Swain, both of Indianapolis. Mrs. John Gantner of this city was his aunt. A brother, Orlie Kenner, died about thirteen years ago.

The body will be brought to this city and funeral services will be held at the Main Street Christian church Thursday morning at ten o'clock in charge of the Red Men lodge with burial in East Hill cemetery.

FILES MOTION TO QUASH 2 OF THE INDICTMENTS

Demaree's Attorney Files Petition
Regarding Two of the Four Charges Against Him

FOR RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS

George Bruce, attorney from Greensburg who will defend Boaz Demaree, held in jail here on four charges, has filed two motions to quash the indictments in which Demaree is charged with receiving stolen goods. The four charges are for burglary of the Dr. Dean residence here and for receiving stolen goods and for burglary of the Sharer and Moore hardware store in Carthage and for receiving stolen goods.

Just what the motive may be for wanting the two charges quashed is not known. No action was taken on the motions today and the case has not as yet been set for trial. Demaree is still in jail here being unable to provide the $20,000 bond which was placed by Judge Sparks when he was first arraigned.

The state will be assisted in the prosecution of Demaree by a Greensburg law firm, which has been hired by the principal witness for the state.

The February term of court has been exceedingly quiet, the jury not grand jury for this term having not been summoned and the third week of the present term is now in progress. No case was being tried today.

MINIMUM SCHOOL TERM IS 120 DAYS

L. N. Hines, State Superintendent,
Sends Letter to School Officials
in This County

TIME LESSENNED MANY PLACES

School Term is Not to be Shortened and State Laws on This Point are Quoted

A school term of 120 days is the minimum session in Indiana, according to L. N. Hines, state superintendent of public instruction, who has sent a letter to trustees and other school officials that no school may be closed before a term of that number of days has been completed.

Mr. Hines has received word that some trustees have already closed their schools short of the minimum term and that other trustees "contemplate closing their schools short of 120 days as a result of small school tax levies made in the fall of 1919."

In discussing the methods of raising revenue to meet the necessary expenses of the minimum term the letter says:

"As a result of this mandatory statute the law authorized school tax of not to exceed 75 cents on each $100 of taxable to build and repair buildings, purchase school supplies, fuel, etc., and pay teachers' salaries; also a local tuition tax of not to exceed 75 cents on each $100 of taxable, together with 25 cents on each taxable poll. This is a tuition tax. The acts of 1919, page 839, further provide for the creation of a state and deficiency school fund to be distributed free, upon proper application, to school corporations not having sufficient funds with which to run their schools the minimum term."

Mr. Hines declares that it is the specific duty of school trustees to maintain adequate school accommodations for the resident children in their respective school corporations and that "this is a duty these school officers can not escape so long as adequate funds can be obtained under the provisions of one or more of the statutes enumerated."

"It is therefore the judgment of this office," the letter continues, "that a trustee can be required to maintain a minimum school term of 120 days, unless it can be clearly shown that the Township is unable, under the provisions of the law, to create revenue adequate to continue the schools the minimum school term. A mere failure on the part of an officer to make an adequate tax levy will not excuse him from his duty."

"Moreover, it is the judgment of this department that a public school teacher having contracted to teach for the school term at a certain minimum daily wage, can collect her salary for the minimum term of six months, even though the school has been closed short of that time, unless it can be clearly shown that, under the provisions of the law, a trustee is unable to provide adequate means to run the school the minimum term. In support of this statement, attention is directed to the case of Rutherford School Township vs. Gray, 51 Ind. App. Court Report, Page 236."

"Already Indiana has fallen to twenty-ninth place among the forty-eight states of the Union in point of length of school term. This record, which is indeed embarrassing, is partially due to the disregard school officers have given to the provisions of the statute fixing a minimum school term."

"A longer term is urged, though not legally required. County superintendents are respectively asked to report to the state superintendent of public instruction the names of any trustees in their respective counties who have closed the schools under their control short of 120 days."

COUNTY ASSIGNED TO ROAD DISTRICT

Will be in Group of Which Greenfield Will be Headquarters,
State Commission Announces

THE MAINTENANCE PROGRAM

Practically Certain Which Roads in Rush County Will be Taken Over by State Body

Rush county is in what will be known as the Greenfield district, according to a division of the state for the purpose of road maintenance, announced today by the state highway commission. The state has been divided into five sections, with an engineer in charge of each, and Greenfield is the headquarters of the local district.

Other counties in this district are: East part of Tippecanoe, northeast part of Montgomery, Clinton, Boone, Tipton, Hamilton, Madison, Delaware, Randolph, Henry, Wayne, Hancock, Fayette, Union, Franklin, Blackford, south part of Carroll, southwest part of Howard, north and east part of Shelby, north and east part of Marion, south part of Jay.

Although the state highway body has never definitely announced which trunk line roads in this county it will maintain, it is practically assured which one it will be north and south through the county. There was never much doubt about the east and west trunk line, but there has been some division among good roads advocates as to which route the state road should follow north and south.

It may be stated authoritatively that north from Rushville the state road will follow the old Port Wayne road to the cross roads just east of Mays, thence into Mays and straight north to the Henry county line. The south route will follow the Winship pike to the cross roads east of Milroy, west a short distance to the first road leading south and thence south to the Decatur county line, without passing through Milroy.

Many good roads men wanted the north route to follow the Main street pike to the jog in the road, east a short distance, then north to a jog, which leads west a few roads and then straight north to the pike which leads into Mays from the west. The objection to this of those favoring the Port Wayne road route was that it was not used much except that part of it which runs directly north of Rushville. Furthermore, they pointed out that part of the Port Wayne road is already paved and would make the Apkeep for the state less, and would also lessen the cost of the improvement when the highway commission is ready to pave. It is declared that the Port Wayne road route is only one-tenth of a mile longer than the other one.

There were a number of people who favored the river road for the south route to the Decatur county line, but it is declared that the representative of the state highway commission who inspected both of them found the route along the Winship pike much more suitable.

According to the announcement from the state highway commission today, a minimum of $1,500,000 will be spent in maintaining the state highways this year. The commission will look after more than 3,000 miles of roads, which will be under the direct supervision of A. H. Hinkle, chief engineer of the maintenance department.

A. O. Hastings was appointed head engineer of the Greenfield district.

The appointment of the district engineers is one of the first steps in establishing one of the most elaborate maintenance departments that has ever been undertaken in state highway work. It was decided to place under each district engineer five superintendents. The superintendents will be assigned to cities or towns in various parts of the district and will have charge of patrolmen and floating gangs.

The entire maintenance program that has been carefully worked out during the last two months by Mr. Hinkle was to be laid before the

MARTENS KNOWS NOTHING

Soviet Ambassador Refuses to Disclose Secret Instructions

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 17.—Ludwig C. Martens, soviet representative in the United States today testified before the senate foreign relations subcommittee and refused to disclose secret instructions from his government.

These documents have been hidden, he said, and he declined to disclose their location. Some have been destroyed, he said.

Martens also refused again to disclose the names of soviet couriers to America. He disclaimed knowledge of the fact surrounding the seizure of a soviet courier in London, carrying revolutionary documents to America.

THREE NAMES ADDED TO GOLD STAR LIST

Make Total of 21 Whose Memory
Will be Honored at Memorial Services Here Sunday

PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND

Three additional names have been reported for the county's gold star list, making twenty-one in all, and their memory, together with those who have previously been announced, will be honored at memorial services to be held under the auspices of Rush post of the American Legion at the First Presbyterian church, Sunday, when French Memorial Diplomas will be presented to the nearest relatives of those who gave their lives for their country.

The three not included in the list published last Saturday are Raymond Boring, son of Frank Boring of Milroy, who died at Camp Taylor; Merrell Kirkpatrick, son of John E. Kirkpatrick, living north of the city, who died at a camp in Texas about a year ago, and Harry Mahin, former Rush county school teacher who died at the Great Lakes training school while engaged as a Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Special stress is laid on the fact that the memorial services are open to the public and that everyone, regardless of whether they are relatives of the deceased men, are urgently invited to be present. The opinion prevails in some quarters that only members of the Legion and relatives of the men whose memory is to be honored, are wanted.

SHOULD HATE SIN FOR SAME REASON GOD DID

People's Lives and Hopes are Wrecked by It, Pastor Says
at Evangelistic Service

CROWNING ACT OF SALVATION

Last evening at the First Presbyterian church the pastor, the Rev. J. F. Sheldon spoke on "A Different View of Sin." "Do not this abominable thing which I hate" was the text, and the purpose of the message was to show that for the very same reason that God hated sin we should.

"It makes humanity selfish; wrecks human lives and hopes; brings suffering and death into the world; destroys immortal hope and makes a rebel against God," he said. "Language is hardly capable of describing the desolation sin works in human experience."

The message closed with the thought that man's crowning act of sin, the rejection and crucifixion of Jesus Christ, was God's crowning act of salvation, and in His sacrifice, accepted, trusted, sin's guilt and sin's power were both met and overcome. Tonight the sermon will be on God's conception of the heart of man. It will be a study in diagnosis and no one should miss hearing it. The song service begins at 7:30 under the leadership of the Georges.

REPLY OF ALLIES IS ARGUMENTATIVE

Council of Premiers Will Attempt to Refute Wilson's Argument on Adriatic Question

U. S. ATTITUDE IS UNCHANGED

Withdrawal of Forces Would Not Indicate Country Will Not Interest Itself Further

(By United Press.)

London, Feb. 17.—The allied answer to President Wilson's Adriatic note will be dispatched to Washington this afternoon, it was learned authoritatively today.

The reply was discussed and approved at this morning's session of the council of premiers, it was learned in Italian circles. According to the information, it takes up their intention to refute the Wilson argument.

The reply is couched in argumentative but diplomatic phraseology, it was said, and invited further negotiations.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The United States will continue to support the right of the Jugo Slavs in the dispute over Fiume, it was announced today at the White House. This government will not withdraw from the Adriatic controversy, it was stated. Threatened withdrawal of American naval forces from the Adriatic would not be taken to mean that the United States will not interest itself further in the situation there.

President Wilson's communication to the supreme council with regard to the proposed Fiume settlement to which he objected, was only ten lines in length and was no serious ultimatum. White House officials said. It was a reiteration of Wilson's original position on the Fiume question.

These statements followed a conference between President Wilson and Secretary Tamm.

It was disclosed that after the president had gone on his western trip last September, he received a message from the state department apprising him that the supreme council was making changes in the Adriatic settlement agreement as drawn when he was in Paris and that he at that time adopted the uncompromising attitude, which is shown in the latest memorandum.

The principal objection of President Wilson to the allied plan of January in the formation of which United States did not participate, is understood to be concerning the provision placing the city of Fiume under the sovereignty of Italy and giving Italy a strip of land connecting Fiume with Italian ports.

WOULD FORBID SALE OF ALL U. S. SHIPS

Sen. Jones Introduces Bill Preventing Shipping Board From Auctioning Ex-Liners

THE SALE COLLAPSES TODAY

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 17.—A bill forbidding the shipping board from selling ex-passenger liners and ships until authorized by congress, was introduced today by Senator Jones, Washington, chairman of the senate commerce committee.

The shipping board is directed to recondition ships and prepare them for service without delay. It was referred to this senate commerce committee.

The auction of former German liners collapsed today.

An hour after bidding opened, Commissioner Scott closed it. Up to that time there had been one bid of $500,000 for the Otsego.

Scott announced that all bids would be submitted to the senate commerce committee before being acted upon, but this was regarded as a mere formality since all bids received today and yesterday were low, there was little prospect that the board would accept any of them.

PUPILS CONTROL IN ALL RUSSIAN SCHOOLS

Boys of 16 Who Are Unable to Read Are Admitted to the Universities.

Pupils, instead of teachers, control the schools of Russia under the bolshevik regime, according to two Englishmen, one of them an experienced schoolmaster, who have just returned from Russia.

Boys and girls are herded indiscriminately and there is no discipline, say the Englishmen. Pupils control the teachers. In a Kolman school a youth of eighteen was appointed commissioner of the institution and was in charge of all teachers. On one occasion he closed the school for a week, as a protest against the action of the master, who had reprimanded a pupil.

Each class has its own committee and usually the most popular boy represents the others at the masters' council. These committees not only direct the masters, but control the distribution of food which is provided for the midday meal, and which is the chief cause for any school attendance at all.

Pupils do exactly as they please, walking into the classroom and leaving it while a lesson is in progress. No punishment of any kind is inflicted on the pupil, as each pupil is his own mentor as to right and wrong.

No home work is set, the pupil doing all his school work during the hours set apart for each session.

Attendance is not compulsory, or even regulated by rule, each one attending classes or staying away, as he sees fit. No marks for good work are allowed, and consequently none for the sluggard who makes no attempt at scholastic attainment.

newly appointed district engineers at conferences in the State House today and Wednesday. It is planned for the district men to establish their local offices within the next week.

At least 200 patrolmen will be employed to care for the state system of approximately 3,000 miles of highway. Surveys are being made of the roads that will be included in the state system, which will be officially designated by the commission before April 1. When the exact character of the roads are determined, then sections of them from ten to twenty-five miles long will be assigned to patrolmen. The mileage allotted to a patrolman will be decided by the condition of the highway.

In addition to the patrolmen there will be from ten to fifteen "floating" gangs in the state. Each of these gangs will be in charge of a foreman, who will work under the direction of the superintendent.

The gangs will have charge of extensive road resurfacing and bridge repairs and will also take over the work of road repair necessitated by washouts and the like. The gangs will also distribute road materials along the state highways for use of the patrolmen in keeping the roads in repair. It is planned to assign a motor truck to each patrolman.

Under the maintenance organization-plan each district engineer will be in complete charge of approximately 600 miles of highway in his district. Each of the superintendents in the district will look after about 120 miles of road.

Maps will be prepared by the commission showing all the roads in the state system. Each of these roads will be numbered on the maps. It will be the duty of the maintenance department to number the poles along each road so that a traveler can easily trace his way by consulting the state maps.

CELEBRATE BIRTH CIVIL WAR NURSE

Offer $500 For Best 3 Act-Play on Life of Florence Nightingale as Feature of Observance

CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY

Centenary is Designed to Encourage Recruiting For Nursing Profession in Country

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 17—Florence Nightingale's spirit will reorganize American nursing in 1920, just as the revered woman herself, in the years following the Crimea, laid the foundation for modern war relief.

As a feature of the celebration of the centennial anniversary of the birth of the Civil War nurse—May 12—a prize of $500 has been offered by the Illinois Council for Nursing Education for the best three-act play by an American author based on incidents in the life of Florence Nightingale. Announcement of the contest was made here to-day by Miss Ella Phillips Crandall, executive secretary of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

The centennial designed to encourage recruiting for the nursing profession throughout the country, will be celebrated in all the larger cities of the nation by public meetings, pageants and formal ceremonies, according to Miss Crandall.

"It is a particularly happy circumstance that the centennial should come this year, when, as a result of the world war and two disastrous epidemics, the nursing profession has been burdened by unprecedented responsibilities, thus opening up vast new fields of service," said Miss Crandall. "The spirit of the great nurse, as exemplified on the stage, will bring into the profession many many high-class recruits."

Pointing out the present need of nurses, Miss Crandall said that while there are now only 8,000 public health nurses in the entire country, more than 50,000 are required by state and federal legislation either passed or pending.

Recognizing Soldiers

With the passage of the Sweet Bill many amendments are made to the war risk insurance act which are of vital importance to Rush county ex-service men and their relatives, especially mothers and wives. Probably the most welcome change is in the matter of compensation for disability. Instead of a maximum of $50 a month for temporary total disability the soldier now receives at least $80 and it ranges up to $105 a month for a man with four children, with an extra allowance of $10 each for dependent father and mother. There is also an allowance to a man temporarily and totally disabled with no wife living, of $5 additional for each child, without limit as to number.

For total permanent disability the monthly compensation is $100. But now a man is also rated as totally and permanently disabled if he has lost one foot and one hand, or one foot and one eye, or one hand and the sight of one eye. Besides, all extra allowance up to $20 for an attendant may be granted. There is also a new allowance of $200 for double total permanent disability. This is where a man, for instance, has lost both hands and both eyes, or both eyes and a hand and a foot.

The new scale is retroactive to April 6, 1917, and payments of any amounts due to ex-service men will be forthcoming without application to the bureau of war risk insurance. Checks will be sent out as soon as possible. Compensation will also now be paid for death or disability resulting from disease or injury after induction by the local draft board, but before acceptance for active service.

New beneficiaries for insurance have been added to the list and include uncles, aunts, nephews, nieces, brothers-in-law, sisters-in-law and persons who have stood in place of parent to soldiers, and children of such persons. The insured soldier may now provide for the payment of his insurance to his beneficiary in the form of instalments in 36 months or more, but not exceeding 240 months, or in a lump sum. This is not retroactive. Also, it applies only to converted insurance. In case the soldier has not made any preference the beneficiary may choose the form of payment.

Another new provision remedies defects in the original war risk insurance act and protects two classes of men. The first class embraces Everybody is right sometimes, even though it be accidental.

No men or women should give up being boys and girls until they are at least 90.

People who make themselves miserable in this world in order to be happy in the next are taking a long chance.

those men who were in the service between April 6, 1917, and the passage of the war risk insurance act; and during this period, died, or became totally and permanently disabled. They had no opportunity to apply for insurance, as no insurance was provided for, but their right to it was clear. The second class, was those men who died or became totally and permanently disabled during the 120 days allowed for making application for insurance, but had not applied. In many cases these men had failed to apply through no fault of their own and this provision of the Sweet bill protects them. Men in both classes who died or became totally and permanently disabled are held to have been insured in amount sufficient to entitle their heirs to 240 payments of $25 a month; or the same payments during their life time in case of permanent total disability.

Persons inducted by the local draft boards who died or became totally and permanently disabled before actual acceptance are also held to have been granted the same insurance, payable $25 monthly.

Instead of payments ceasing when no one in the permitted class of beneficiaries survives, the money now goes to the estate of the soldier. All money due service men who are inmates of insane asylums will be placed in the treasury to their credit, and disbursed to the Chief Executive officer of the asylum for the comfort of the former soldier to whom it is due, or to his wife, minor children or dependents.

It is charged that during the seven years of Burleson's administration of the postal service there has been a deficit of approximately $35,000,000 instead of the credit balances that he has been submitting in his annual reports. The estimate is based on a recent decision of the interstate commerce commission that the railroads are entitled to recover a total of approximately $70,000,000 because of under payments for carrying the mails since the space payment plan was inaugurated by Mr. Burleson. In other words Burleson appears to have extracted from the roads sufficient free service to enable him to frame his rosy financial statements.

Frequent reports from mining districts are to the effect that coal output is curtailed because of the inability of the federal railroad administration to furnish cars as rapidly as required. During the last week in January seventy-two mines in the vicinity of Terre Haute were closed down for lack of cars. This is one of the many reasons why the country is impatiently awaiting the return of the railroads to private operation.

The dollar has dwindled in purchasing power since 1915 to 47.74 cents, according to an authority, but lots of folks still expect to buy as much for a dollar, but to earn more of them for their labor.

THE CAR OF THE AMERICAN FAMILY

Hupmobile

When you stop to ask yourself if the Hupmobile literally is the best car of its class in the world, you must not overlook the really wonderful character of the service it gives. By service, we mean more than long life and Hupmobile economy—which are proverbial. We mean the faithfulness and the dependability of The Comfort Car—a willingness of response and steadiness of performance which warm a driver's heart. It is the positively unusual things which the Hupmobile does—not now and then, but habitually—which make people believe it is the best car of its class in the world.

A lot of people are entitled to be misunderstood; and the consequences are theirs. A good motive is commendable but the other fellow wants to be certain. A Western undertaker had a man arrested for thrashing him. The judge asked the defendant what he had to say; His reply was:

"Judge, I hate funerals, but in the past two years I had to attend about fifteen of 'em. This man, this undertaker, was the captain at all of them and he finally began to smile at me and then he took to shaking hands with me. Last Christmas a package came and in it was a calendar, with his name on it. I just naturally beat him up. He can't date me for the next little planting."

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach. There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloating after eating, food repelling, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless, troublesome to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, crickets of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year. The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this. One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pains in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed." We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise. Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big box from him today. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

THE FAILURE OF OTHERS SHOULD NOT DISCOURAGE

Another Instance Where Trutona Brings Success After the Failure of Many

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 16.—Here another example of the now almost common occurrence where Trutona has brought relief to a man or woman where many other medicines failed. It is the case of Mrs. Stanley Katzman, 1714 North Fifth street, Terre Haute.

"For two years," Mrs. Katzman said, "I have had a poor appetite and it seemed that I couldn't eat anything without experiencing a pain in the pit of my stomach. I could become short of breath at times, something like choking spells. As often formed in my stomach causing me to feel bloated and to belch. About twice a week I would suffer from a swimming sensation in my head and I could always count on having a headache after one of these spells.

"I certainly feel much better after taking one bottle of Trutona. My appetite has improved and now I can eat without suffering the pain in my stomach afterwards. I'm not short of breath any more, neither do I have the choking spells. The formations have ceased to annoy me and the bloating and belching have stopped. Trutona has also relieved considerably the dizzy feeling in my head and the former headaches as well. Trutona has helped me remarkably and I do not hesitate recommending it."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Rushville at Harrove and Mullin's Drug Store.—(Adv.)

SHORTAGE OF OFFICE BOYS

America May Experience Novelty of Boyless Office

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 14—America may soon experience the novelty of a boyless office.

Officials of the state employment bureau here declare they receive an average of a hundred requests a week for office boys but are unable to supply even a-fourth of the number wanted.

The principal reason for the shortage throughout the country, it was explained, is that boys have found they can make from $10 to $14 a week for factory work, while the average wage of an office boy is from $3 to $7 a week.

TURN BEER BOTTLES INTO XYLOPHONES

Since July 1 Almost a Platoon of Former Men Have Entered Phonograph Business

SPREAD TO MANY CITIES

Several of The Former Brewers Are However Engaged in the Ice Cream Business

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 17.—"Tom and Jerry Fox Trot," the "Sloe Gin Shuffle" and "Brandy Blues," are tunes that you may be soon be spinning out on your talking machines.

Whisky bottles, long since emptied are being converted into xylophones.

Cellarettes, now untenanted, will be shipped back to the factory, to reappear as phonograph cabinets.

Bartenders are forgetting their wine lists and learning the names and tunes of syncopated melodies.

All these are possibilities because since July 1, almost a platoon of former liquor men here have entered the phonograph business, either as jobbers or manufacturers. With booze under the ban, these former contributors to internal revenue are to seek new fortunes in dispensing close harmony in canned music, instead of the closer harmony that accompanied the bottled variety of goods. And instead of revenue men, they have only the luxury tax collector to face.

Many of the former liquor dealers have followed the lead of two millionaire Chicago distillers, now manufacturing phonographs. More than a dozen phonograph concerns started recently are reported to be owned by former liquor men. This jump from booze to music is not confined to Chicago, among other cities reporting similar activity being Cleveland; where a brewing company has converted its plant into a talking machine factory.

"Many liquor men when forced into some other line of activity apparently decided that there was a lot of money to be made in the phonograph business," said E. A. Fearns, manager of a talking machine company of Chicago. "So many former liquor dealers have gone into the business that every time I hear of a new talking machine concern, I always inquire what branch of the liquor industry they were formerly engaged in."

"Several of the former brewers are making near-beer and others have engaged in the ice and ice cream business, but I cannot understand how so many of them selected the phonograph field for their future activity."

It may not be long before one of these former drink mixers who is dealing out phonograph records, forgets himself and shouts out to the crowd.

"Everybody have one on the house."

The Rise of Maxwell Is Due To Its Metals

Fine soil makes fine wheat; fine feathers make a fine bird; and fine metals have made the Maxwell. They have given it:

1—A life of 100,000 miles. 2—Thriftiness.

For its metals are light in weight. Therein comes thriftiness.

But these metals are of extra strength. Therein comes long life.

Metallurgists—those who have made the study of metals a science—will tell you that such metals are costly, but they guarantee quality in a car and their generous employment in a Maxwell is by far the best evidence anyone may need to determine its quality.

They are almost alone responsible for the rapid rise of Maxwell, for the fact that nearly 400,000 now have been built, for that ever-growing friendliness to Maxwell the world over.

CAILLAUX CHARGED WITH HIGH TREASON

Former Premier of France Was to be Called Before High Court of French Senate Today

PENALTY USUALLY IS DEATH

Trial Probably Will be Last of Series of Court Proceedings Connected With Drama of Treason

Paris, Feb. 17.—The trial of Joseph Caillaux, former premier of France, charged with high treason—or paraphrased through courtesy as "plotting against the external safety of the state"—was to be called today before the High Court of the French senate. The penalty on conviction usually is death.

The trial probably will be the last of importance in the long series of court proceedings connected with the complicated drama of treason and intrigue by which the French government charged such men as Bolo Pasha, Louis J. Malvy, Pierre Lenglere and Caillaux attempted to carry on a defeatist campaign when Germany was battering hardest at the gates of Verdun. They wanted Germany to come so near to winning the war that Caillaux, as leader of the enemies of the administration at Paris, might be called to preserve the republic, thus embarrassing Premier Clemenceau.

Trial of Caillaux was decided upon on September 16 last by the French senate committee investigating the defeatist movement. The basis of the charges against the former premier as summed up in the formal report of the senatorial committee—corresponding to an indictment in American court procedure—follows:

"Political notes discovered in a Florence safe throw a flood of light on M. Caillaux's real intentions. They prove he had conceived a plan to seize power when, on making the public believe the Germans were going to take Verdun and win the war, his followers would put him forward as France's savior. He had taken every measure to secure this result. These documents cannot form the basis of a charge but justice has the right and it is its duty to take account of them."

The indictment then pictures Caillaux from the time he left the army as a paymaster, in which he had enlisted a few months previous, and follows him through all his plottings. It shows him with an infinite capacity and desire for labor, but always directed to the ends of his unscrupulous ambitions.

He said he went to South America on an obscure mission for the government and while there met Count Luxburg, German ambassador, and gave him his views on the war for transmission to the German government. Then came his operations with Marx of Mannheim, who, it was alleged, furnished cash toward the defeatist campaign being waged in Bonnet Rouge, under direction of Louis J. Malvy. Then there were implications of a collusion with Bolo Pasha.

It was Clemenceau who tricked the master plotter. He started off with a speech in the senate against Malvy, minister of finance, who was backed by Caillaux. One after another of the alleged traitors fell under the merciless exposure by the administration until on January 13, 1918, after he had piled up volumes of evidence against himself during his testimony in the trials of Malvy, Humbert, Bolo and others, he was arrested and lodged in the Prison de Sante, charged with treason.

LESSONS TAUGHT BY ART

Indianapolis Public Schools Uses Method of Instruction

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 17.—Arithmetic is taught by art in some of the Indianapolis public schools.

Not only arithmetic, but geography, history, spelling and practical experience are developed in the young minds of the city while they pursue a course in color harmony and drawing.

This method of instruction is used in the applied art courses of the elementary school under direction of Miss Florence Fitch. Under this system, Miss Fitch said, the children do not realize that they are being taught and as a matter of fact they are not being taught, but are merely given an opportunity to learn after their own natural inclinations.

The women of India, led by Lady Charnock, are being organized to promote a movement to stamp out leprosy.

U. S. FARMERS PAY ONE BILLION IN TAXES

This is Roughly One-Fifth of Present Annual Expense of Operating Federal Gov't

REPRESENTS FOUR PER CENT.

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 17.—American farmers this year will pay income taxes totalling nearly $1,000,000,000, it was estimated here today on the basis of earnings calculated by the Department of Agriculture.

This is roughly one-fifth of the present annual expense of operating the federal government. The bulk of it will come from the owners, managers and tenants of 6,000,000 farms who comprise slightly more than one-twentieth of the nation's population.

The farmers will pay 4 percent on the first $4,000 of income above exemptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for those who are married.

The estimate represents four percent of $24,982,000,000, the value of all crops, animals and animal products of 1919 as estimated by the agricultural department. In growing crops and stock of this value, American farmers experienced the best business year in their history, reports show. It is $2,500,000,000 greater than the value of the 1918 crop.

the best remedy for indigestion that ever came out of a drug store.

You know that pepsin is good for indigestion but pepsin could never do what PEPINCO will. We have dealt in medicines long enough to know the various uses and value. We unhesitatingly say that PEPINCO is the best remedy for indigestion, gas, flatulency, food distress, sour stomach and pains under the ribs, that ever came out of a drug store. Sufferers of indigestion and dyspepsia will do well to take PEPINCO.

Ask your druggist—he sells and recommends Pepsinco.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and sooth and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Four three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcline in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

Swift & Company was a favorite topic of conversation last year.

Committees investigated it, commissions attacked it, lawmakers threatened it, many condemned it.

Presently people began to think about it; began to realize that Swift & Company was performing a necessary service in a big, efficient way; began to wonder whether it could be done as well in any other way.

Read what Swift & Company did last year, and what it meant to you, in the Swift & Company Year Book, just issued.

It's a fascinating narrative—simple facts in simple words. There is one ready for you. Send for it.

Mrs. Greenwald's Letter

Centralia, Ill. — "I was run-down, could not eat or sleep, and my lungs pained me a good deal so I could hardly do my housework. Vinol built me up after all other medicines had failed so now I eat better, sleep better and feel better in every way. Vinol is certainly good for a run-down system." — Mrs. S. E. GREENWALD.

Such letters prove how nervous, anemic, run-down, overworked men, women and children increase their appetites, strength and endurance by taking Vinol. That is because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese phosphates — the greatest tonics known.

HIGH PRICED SNOOZES

New York, Feb. 14.—And now it's the high cost of sleeping!

Bedding prices have advanced from 30 to 40 per cent, since January, 1919, according to local manufacturers.

Springs, which formerly could be obtained for $22 and $15 now cost from $30 to $50, they said.
